

JUSTICE FOR FAMILIES

Training and Technical Assistance

WHAT WE DO

Firm believers in a strong coordinated and multidisciplinary approach, we work directly with your court and community partners to:

Promote court and community coordination

Advance people-centered practice

Share best practices for court-based responses

With support from the Office on Violence Against Women (OVW), we provide you with free training and technical assistance across Justice for Families purpose areas.

CHAT WITH US

Online and in person, we talk to your court and project partners to learn about your community. We visit you to observe court dockets and advise your system-based response.

CONNECT TO PEERS

Learn from practitioners via the online forum and by visiting model courts. Join drop-in calls to swap tips in planning effective training and court-related services. Drop-in calls are the first Tuesday every other month at 4pm ET
Feb | Apr | Jun | Aug | Oct | Dec.

GET FREE TRAINING

Attend our national training events with your court and project partners. Our OVW-approved catalog of interactive curricula and trainers also come to you.
